In summary

Our business accounts are ideal if you are an organisation looking for a higher rate of interest than you would normally find with an easy access account and you don't need access to your funds in the short term.

We have two accounts that are available to choose from: the Business Saver and the Club Saver. Please note, products may not always be available so please check availability before applying.

Our savings accounts for business are not designed for use as a current account. As such we reserve the right to close an account where it appears to be used for this purpose.

The key features of the Business Saver and Club Saver accounts are:

- Save from £1,000 up to £500,000*
- Variable rate accounts offering a tiered rate of interest which increases with the amount saved
- Add to your savings by transfer from your organisation's bank account, by cheque or by cash (up to £2,000 per day at our Epsom branch)
- Withdrawals available after 35 days' notice without access charge and can be made by transfer to your organisations bank account, by cheque or by cash
- Interest paid annually on 30 June and added to the account, paid to another account with us or to the organisations bank account *subject to the organisation's total holding with us not exceeding £500,000

The Financial Conduct Authority is a financial services regulator. It requires us, National Counties Building Society, to give you this important information to help you to decide whether our savings accounts for business are right for you. You should read this leaflet carefully so that you understand the key product features for these accounts, and then keep it safe for future reference.

For more information please call or email us (see last page for relevant contact details), alternatively please visit our website ncbs.co.uk/savings

If you are not already a user of our Online Service for an existing account with us, you can register via our website once you have received your Certificate. After you have registered, we will send you a verification code. For security reasons, this is sent by post. You need this code for your first login, and you will only be able to add to your account by debit card once you have logged in and entered your verification code.

Accounts with one or more signatory

Accounts that require one or more signatories will be able to add to their savings by transfer from their organisations bank account. You will also be able to add to your savings by sending a cheque in the post or by cheque or by cash at our Epsom branch.

You can send additional savings directly from your organisation's bank account. The banking details you need for us are:

By cash

Cash deposits for your account can be paid in person at our Epsom branch (up to £2,000 per person per day). If you have more than one savings account with us, this amount may be split across them all, subject to additions being accepted, but cannot exceed this limit in total.

Availability of funds paid in

Please refer to Section 9 of our General Conditions for our Savings Accounts booklet for more information about when money paid in becomes available for withdrawal or transfer.

Taking money out

Withdrawals are available without access charge after 35 calendar days' notice.

You can give us 35 days' notice in writing or at our Epsom branch (subject to the organisation's signatory requirements being met) to make a withdrawal without incurring an access charge. Once notice has been given it can be cancelled but not varied, which means that an increase in the amount or a change to the date of the withdrawal requires a further 35 calendar days' notice.

As immediate withdrawals are not allowed, both accounts could be unsuitable if immediate access is needed to the money invested.

There is a minimum withdrawal of £100. Where a withdrawal would leave your account balance below £1,000, either the withdrawal must be reduced (subject to the minimum of £100) or your account must be closed.

If your account requires only one signatory, you will be able to use our Online Service to transfer to your organisations bank account and to transfer to another account with us.

If your account requires one or more signatories, you can make a withdrawal by giving us the instruction by post or at our Epsom branch.

Withdrawals are paid by transfer to your organisations bank account, by transfer to another savings account with us, by cheque or by cash.

By transfer to your organisation's bank account

You can transfer money from your Business Saver / Club Saver to the organisation's bank account via our Online Service if only one signatory is required. If one or more signatories are required, you can give the instruction by calling our Savings Account Service Team or visiting our Epsom branch.

By transfer to another account with us

You can transfer money from your Business Saver / Classic Saver to another account with us via our Online Service if only one signatory is required. If one or more signatories are required, you can give the instruction by calling our Savings Account Service Team or visiting our Epsom branch.

By cheque

Cheque withdrawals are payable to the organisation and sent to the registered account address. Cheques payable to third parties are not available.

Our cheques will not be stopped except when they have been lost or stolen. Cheques withdrawn and later returned for re-investment will earn interest from the day or receipt by us.

The maximum withdrawal immediately available by cheque from our Epsom branch is £50,000. Cheques for larger amounts are available and will either be posted to your registered address or be available for collection from our Epsom branch after 3:30pm the next working day after we receive your withdrawal request, providing we have your instructions in branch before 3pm. Please tell the cashier which option you require at the time you give us your withdrawal instruction.

By cash

Provided 35 days' notice has been given, cash withdrawals of up to £600 per day may be made in person at our Epsom branch (subject to the organisation's signatory requirements specified at application being met). Notice must be given for each withdrawal. Withdrawals over £600 should be made by cheque.

Please refer to Section 10 of the General Conditions for our Savings Accounts booklet for more information, including details of the cut-off times applying to withdrawal requests.

To register new bank or building society details please send us an original statement for the account, issued within the last three months, and showing your organisation's name as the account holder.

All withdrawals are subject to sufficient cleared funds being available.

Closing the account

If your account requires only one signatory you can close your Business / Club Saver by sending us a secure message on our Online Service. Your account will then be closed after the expiry of the 35 day notice period.

If your account requires one or more signatory, your Business / Club Saver can be closed after expiry of the 35 day notice period by phone, by post or at our Epsom branch.

Interest

Both the Business Saver and Club Saver accounts pay a variable rate of interest which we are able to alter at any time. The interest earned, which is paid annually on 30 June, will be added to the account and available from the following day. If you prefer, interest can be paid to another account held by the organisation with us or directly to your organisation's nominated bank or building society account.

Interest is paid gross for all organisations.

Account terms

We reserve the right to withdraw these accounts or to change the interest rate available for new accounts at any time and without prior notice. The full terms of these accounts comprise the details set out in this Product Features leaflet and in the separate General Conditions for our Savings Accounts booklet.

Membership

Holders of deposit accounts are not members of the Society but are bound by our Rules, which are available on request.

Treating Customers Fairly

We are committed to treating our customers fairly, and it's central to everything we do. As part of our commitment to treating you fairly we will provide information on our products and processes that is clear and easy to understand. If you have a query or need our help and support, we will respond to your needs and treat them sensitively and flexibly. If you have any questions, or need any help with applying for a product or managing your account, please contact us using the information on the back page of this leaflet.

Complaints

We always try to provide a first-class service. Occasionally however, things can go wrong. If they do, we'll try to put them right.

If you have a complaint you should contact us and we will endeavour to resolve the matter quickly and satisfactorily. In the first instance contact should be made by telephone or in writing with our Savings Account Service Team at our Principal Office. A leaflet detailing how we deal with complaints is available on request from our Savings Account Service Team, our branch office or our website ncbs.co.uk/complaints

If we do not resolve your complaint internally to your satisfaction, you may be able to refer it to the Financial Ombudsman Service. The service was set up by Parliament and is free for customers to use. They will look at the facts of what's happened in a dispute between customers and financial firms. They may decide that a firm has dealt with a complaint fairly and will explain why to the customer or they may decide that the firm has done something wrong and they will then tell the firm to put things right. A copy of the explanatory leaflet published by the Financial Ombudsman Service is available on request or further information is available on their website financial-ombudsman.org.uk

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION (all or some of the below)

1 Scheme responsible for the protection of your eligible deposit

Your eligible deposit is covered by a statutory Deposit Guarantee Scheme. If insolvency of your bank, building society or credit union should occur, your eligible deposits would be repaid up to £85,000 by the Deposit Guarantee Scheme.

2 General limit of protection

If a covered deposit is unavailable because a bank, building society or credit union is unable to meet its financial obligations, depositors are repaid by a Deposit Guarantee Scheme. This repayment covers a maximum of £85,000 per bank, building society or credit union. This means that all eligible deposits at the same bank, building society or credit union are added up in order to determine the coverage level. If, for instance a depositor holds a savings account with £80,000 and a current account with £20,000, he or she will only be repaid £85,000.

This method will also be applied if a bank, building society or credit union operates under different trading names. National Counties Building Society also trades under the name Family Building Society. This means that all eligible deposits with one or more of these trading names are in total covered up to £85,000.

In some cases eligible deposits which are categorised as “temporary high balances” are protected above £85,000 for six months after the amount has been credited or from the moment when such eligible deposits become legally transferable. These are eligible deposits connected with certain events including:

- (a) certain transactions relating to the depositor’s current or prospective only or main residence or dwelling;
- (b) a death, or the depositor’s marriage or civil partnership, divorce, retirement, dismissal, redundancy or invalidity;
- (c) the payment to the depositor of insurance benefits or compensation for criminal injuries or wrongful conviction.

More information can be obtained under www.fscs.org.uk

3 Limit of protection for joint accounts

In case of joint accounts, the limit of £85,000 applies to each depositor.

However, eligible deposits in an account to which two or more persons are entitled as members of a business partnership, association or grouping of a similar nature, without legal personality, are aggregated and treated as if made by a single depositor for the purpose of calculating the limit of £85,000.

4 Reimbursement

The responsible Deposit Guarantee Scheme is the Financial Services Compensation Scheme, 10th Floor Beaufort House, 15 St Botolph Street, London, EC3A 7QU, Tel: 0800 678 1100 or 020 7741 4100, Email: ICT@fscs.org.uk. It will repay your eligible deposits (up to £85,000) within 20 working days until 31 December 2018; within 15 working days from 1 January 2019 until 31 December 2020; within 10 working days from 1 January 2021 to 31 December 2023; and within 7 working days from 1 January 2024 onwards, save where specific exceptions apply.

Where the FSCS cannot make the repayable amount available within 7 working days, it will, from 1 June 2016 until 31 December 2023, ensure that you have access to an appropriate amount of your covered deposits to cover the cost of living (in the case of a depositor which is an individual) or to cover necessary business expenses or operating costs (in the case of a depositor which is not an individual or a large company) within 5 working days of a request.

If you have not been repaid within these deadlines, you should contact the Deposit Guarantee Scheme since the time to claim reimbursement may be barred after a certain time limit. Further information can be obtained under www.fscs.org.uk.

OTHER IMPORTANT INFORMATION

In general, all retail depositors and businesses are covered by Deposit Guarantee Schemes. Exceptions for certain deposits are stated on the website of the responsible Deposit Guarantee Scheme. location e.g. town / county / country;

- some special categories of personal data such as about your health or if you are a vulnerable customer (more details below); and
- where the account is applied for or held by a corporate body of which you are a director, partner or trustee, your full name and position. In addition, the personal information mentioned above if you are a shareholder, trustee (or equivalent) or other stakeholder with more than 25% of shareholding or voting rights or who otherwise exercises control over the management of the account holder.

- information about your tax position.

JOINT APPLICANTS, GUARANTORS, CHARGORS AND POWERS OF ATTORNEY

If you make a joint application with your spouse, partner or family member, we will also collect the personal information mentioned above about that person. You must show this privacy notice to the other applicant and make sure they confirm that they know you will share their personal information with us for the purposes described in it. If you refer to the “What are the legal grounds” section (below) you will see reference to consent and a description of some limited scenarios where it may be relevant to what we do with personal information. If we ask you to obtain consent from the joint applicant (such as for marketing) you should do that using the consent capture mechanism that we give or make available to you for that purpose.

If you apply for your mortgage with a guarantor or chargor, that person will see this privacy notice when he / she submits his / her own personal information to us because he / she must necessarily complete an application form.

If there is somebody who has power of attorney, or similar, over your affairs, that person will see this privacy notice when we make contact with him / her directly.

WHAT IS THE SOURCE OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

We will generally collect your personal information from you directly or from a third party authorised to act on your behalf. If you are introduced to us by a broker or other intermediary, we will obtain some personal information about you indirectly from them when they introduce you to us.

In addition, we obtain your personal information from other sources such as CRAs, your employer, landlord, other lenders, accountant and other professional advisers, HMRC, DWP, Land Registry, publically available directories and information (e.g. telephone directory, social media, internet, news articles), debt recovery and / or tracing agents, other organisations to assist in prevention and detection of crime, police and law enforcement agencies.

Some of the personal information obtained from CRAs will have originated from publicly accessible sources. In particular, CRAs draw on court decisions, bankruptcy registers and the electoral register (also known as the electoral roll). We explain more about CRAs below. We have also mentioned above in the lists of personal information that we process some of the CRAs' other sources of information (which are our own source of information too).

WHAT ARE THE LEGAL GROUNDS FOR OUR PROCESSING OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION (INCLUDING WHEN WE SHARE IT WITH OTHERS)?

Data protection laws require us to explain what legal grounds justify our processing of your personal information (this includes sharing it with other organisations). For some processing more than one legal ground may be relevant (except where we rely on consent). Here are the legal grounds that are relevant to us:

- 1) Processing necessary to perform our contract with you or for taking steps prior to entering into it during the application stage:
 - a) administering and managing your account and services relating to that, updating your records, tracing your whereabouts to contact you about your account and doing this for recovering debt;

 - d) for some of our profiling. We explain more about our profiling activities below.
- 2) Processing necessary for the following legitimate interests which apply to us and in some cases other organisations (who we list below), where we consider, on balance, is appropriate for us to do so:

 - b) to test the performance of our products, services and internal processes;

 - j) to contact you prior to the expiry of your mortgage product with details of our available mortgage products for which you are eligible or providing you with details of products available for reinvestment when your savings bond matures, for example;

- k) for some of our profiling, in particular where this does not have a legal effect or otherwise significantly affect you. We explain more about our profiling activities below; and
 - l) when we share your personal information with these other people or organisations;
 - your guarantor or chargor (if you have one);
 - any occupier or other person who is required to postpone or charge his / her rights or interests in our favour;
 - joint account holders, trustees and beneficiaries and any person with power of attorney over your affairs (in each case only if relevant to you);
 - the borrower(s), and any other person who provides property or cash as additional security or holds a linked offset account (only if relevant to you);
 - other payment services providers such as when you ask us to share information about your account with them;
 - other account holders or individuals when we have to provide your information to them because some money paid to you by them should not be in your account;
 - the broker or other intermediary who introduced you to us;
 - our legal and other professional advisers, auditors and actuaries;
 - financial institutions;
 - governmental and regulatory bodies such as HMRC, the Financial Conduct Authority, the Prudential Regulation Authority, the Ombudsman, the Land Registry and Land Charges Department, the Information Commissioner's Office and under the Financial Services Compensation Scheme;
 - tax authorities who are overseas for instance if you are subject to tax in another jurisdiction we may share your personal information directly with relevant tax authorities overseas (instead of via HMRC);
 - other organisations and businesses who provide services to us such as debt recovery agencies, property managers, conveyancers and valuers panel managers, insurers, back up and server hosting providers, IT software and maintenance providers, document storage providers and suppliers of other back office functions;
 - buyers and their professional representatives as part of any restructuring or sale of our business or assets;
 - CRAs (see below where we explain more); and
 - market research and other organisations who help us to develop and improve our products and services.
- 3) Processing necessary to comply with our legal obligations:
- a) for compliance with laws that apply to us;
 - b) for establishment, defence and enforcement of our legal rights or those of any other member of our Group;
 - c) for activities relating to the prevention, detection and investigation of crime;
 - d) to carry out identity checks and anti-money laundering checks at the application stage, and periodically after that;
 - e) to carry out monitoring and to keep records (see below);
 - f) to deal with requests from you to exercise your rights under data protection laws;
 - g) to process information about a crime or offence and any related proceedings (in practice this will be relevant if we know or suspect fraud); and

- h) when we share your personal information with these other people or organisations:
- your guarantor or chargor (if you have one);
 - joint account holders, trustees and beneficiaries, and any person with power of attorney over your affairs (in each case only if relevant to you);
 - a person appointed by a court with responsibility over your affairs such as a deputy, curator bonis, guardian, intervener and trustee in bankruptcy;
 - the borrower(s) and any other person who provides property or cash as additional security or holds a linked offset account (only if relevant to you);
 - other payment services providers such as when you ask us to share information about your account with them;
 - other account holders or individuals when we have to provide your information to them because some money paid to you by them should not be in your account;
 - law enforcement agencies and governmental and regulatory bodies such as HMRC, the Financial Conduct Authority, the Prudential Regulation Authority, the Ombudsman, the Information Commissioner's Office and under the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (depending on the circumstances of the sharing); and
 - courts and other organisations where that is necessary for the administration of justice, to protect vital interests and to protect the security or integrity of our business operations.

4) Processing with your consent:

- a) when you request that we share your personal information with someone else and consent to that;
- b) when we offer to introduce you to one of our partners and you consent to that;
- c) when you consent to us using your personal information for a case study;
- d) for some of our marketing communications, such as to tell you about our products, services, promotions, offers and events which may be of interest to you;
- e) for some of our profiling – we explain more about our profiling activities below; and
- f) for some of our processing of special categories of personal data such as about your health or if you are a vulnerable customer (and it will be explained to you when we ask for that explicit consent what purposes, sharing and use it is for).

5) Processing for a substantial public interest under laws that apply to us where this helps us to meet our broader social obligations such as:

- a) processing of your special categories of personal data such as about your health or if we believe you are a vulnerable customer;
- b) processing that we need to do to fulfil our legal obligations and regulatory requirements; and
- c) when we share your personal information with other people and organisations such as members of our Group, your relatives, social services, your carer, and the person who has power of attorney over your affairs, if they need to know that you are a vulnerable customer.

HOW AND WHEN CAN YOU WITHDRAW YOUR CONSENT?

Much of what we do with your personal information is not based on your consent, instead it is based on other legal grounds. For processing that is based on your consent, you have the right to take back that consent for future processing at any time. You can do this by contacting us using the details on the back cover. The consequence might be that we cannot send you some communications (see 4(d) above) or that we cannot take into account special categories of personal data such as about your health or if you are a vulnerable customer (but these outcomes will be relevant only in cases where we rely on explicit consent for this).

We will tell the broker or other intermediary who introduced you to us that you have withdrawn your consent only if it is our data processor (this means an organisation who is processing personal information on our behalf) or if we are required to tell them when you exercise certain rights under data protection laws. Where your broker or other intermediary processes your personal information as a data controller in their own right, you should make sure you contact them directly to withdraw your consent.

To comply with payment services regulations we have to share some of your personal information with other payment service providers in some circumstances such as when you ask us to share information about your account with them. Whilst those payment services regulations mention 'consent' for this, 'consent' in that context does not have the same meaning as 'consent' under data protection laws. The legal grounds which may be relevant to this are compliance with our legal obligations, performance of our contract with you, our legitimate interests, or a combination of these. This is why if you ask to withdraw consent from what we do with your personal information where we need to have it under the payment services regulations, we may still have to hold and use your personal information.

IS YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION TRANSFERRED OUTSIDE THE UK OR THE EEA?

We are based in the UK but sometimes your personal information may be transferred outside the UK or the European Economic Area (EEA). If it is processed within Europe or other parts of the EEA then it is protected by European data protection standards. Some countries outside the EEA do have adequate protection for personal information under laws that apply to us. We will make sure that suitable safeguards are in place before we transfer your personal information to countries outside the EEA which do not have adequate protection under laws that apply to us. Safeguards include contractual obligations imposed on the recipients of your personal information. Those obligations require the recipient to protect your personal information to the standard required in the EEA. Safeguards also include requiring the recipient to subscribe to 'international frameworks' intended to enable secure data sharing and where the framework is the means of protection for the personal information.

HOW DO WE SHARE YOUR INFORMATION WITH CREDIT REFERENCE AGENCIES?

In order to process your application, we will perform credit (for mortgages) and identity checks (for both mortgages and savings products) on you with one or more CRAs. To do this, we will supply your personal information to CRAs and they will give us information about you. This will include information from your mortgage application and about your financial situation and financial history. CRAs will supply to us both public (including the electoral register) and shared credit, financial situation and financial history information and fraud prevention information.

We will use this information to:

- check your identity;
- assess your creditworthiness and whether you can afford the mortgage;

- verify the accuracy of the data you have provided to us;
- prevent criminal activity, fraud and money laundering; and
- trace and recover debts.

We will continue to exchange information about you with CRAs while you have a mortgage with us. This will include details of your repayments and whether you repay in full and on time. This information may be supplied to other organisations by CRAs.

When CRAs receive a credit search from us they will place a search footprint on your credit file that may be seen by other lenders.

If you are making a joint application, or tell us that you have a spouse or financial associate, we will link your records together, so you should make sure you discuss this with them, and share with them this information, before lodging the application. CRAs will also link your records together and these links will remain on your and their files until such time as you or your partner successfully requests with the CRAs to break that link.

The identities of the CRAs, their role also as fraud prevention agencies, the data they hold, the ways in which they use and share personal information, data retention periods and your data protection rights with the CRAs are explained in more detail below.

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO IF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION CHANGES?

You should tell us without delay so that we can update our records.

If you were introduced to us by a broker or other intermediary who is a data controller in its own right, you should contact them separately. In some cases where you exercise rights against us under data protection laws (see below) we may need to inform the broker or other intermediary but this will not always be the case.

DO YOU HAVE TO PROVIDE YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION TO US?

We are unable to provide you with the mortgage or savings product or to process your application without having personal information about you. Your personal information is required before you can enter into the relevant contract with us, or it is required during the life of that contract, or it is required by laws that apply to us. If we already hold some of the personal information that we need – for instance if you are already a customer – we may not need to collect it again when you make your application.

In cases where providing some personal information is optional, we will make this clear. For instance, we will say in application forms or on our website or via the broker or other intermediary, if alternative (such as work) telephone number contact details can be left blank.

DO WE DO ANY MONITORING INVOLVING PROCESSING OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

In this section monitoring means any listening to, recording of, viewing of, intercepting of, or taking and keeping records (as the case may be) of calls, email, text messages, social media messages and other communications.

We may monitor where permitted by law and where the law requires it. In particular, where we are required by the Financial Conduct Authority's regulatory regime to record certain telephone calls we will do so.

Some of our monitoring may be to comply with regulatory rules, self-regulatory practices or procedures relevant to our business, to prevent or detect crime, in the interests of protecting the security of our communications systems and procedures, to have a record of what we have discussed with you and actions agreed with you, to protect you and to provide security for you (such as in relation to fraud risks on your account).

Telephone calls may be recorded to make sure that we have a record of what has been discussed and what your instructions are.

Both telephone call recording and monitoring may be conducted for quality control and staff training purposes.

Some of our monitoring may check for obscene or profane content in communications.

We may conduct short term carefully controlled monitoring of your activities on your account where this is necessary for our legitimate interests or to comply with our legal obligations, for instance, where we suspect fraud, money laundering or other crimes.

PROFILING

This section is relevant where we make decisions about you using only technology, and where none of our employees or any other individuals have been involved in the decision making process. We may do this:

- when you apply for a mortgage or open an account with us, to check that you meet the conditions needed to have the mortgage or account. This may include checking age, residency, nationality or financial position;
- to decide what marketing communications are suitable for you;
- to place you in groups with similar customers. This helps us to design products and services for different customers and to manage our relationships with them; and
- to analyse statistics.

We can do this activity based on our legitimate interests only where the profiling does not have a legal or other significant effect on you. Profiling for direct marketing can mean there is a separate right to object (see 'What are your rights' below).

FOR HOW LONG IS YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION RETAINED BY US?

Unless we explain otherwise to you, we will hold your personal information for the following periods:

- Retention in case of queries. We will keep your personal information in case of queries from you (for instance, if you apply unsuccessfully for a product or service) for up to two years unless we have to keep it for a longer period (see directly below);
- Retention in case of claims. We will keep your personal information for the period in which you might legally bring complaints or claims against us which in practice means:
 - if you are a savings customer, for six years after your relationship with us has ended
 - if you are a mortgage customer, for twelve years after your relationship with us has ended;
- if you are both a savings and mortgage customer, for between six and twelve years after your relationship with us has ended, depending on the respective closure dates of your mortgage and savings accounts unless we have to keep it for a longer period (see directly below); and
- Retention in accordance with legal, regulatory or technical reasons. We may keep your personal information for a longer period if we cannot delete it for legal, regulatory or technical reasons.

If you would like further information about our data retention practices, contact our Data Protection Officer.

WHAT ARE YOUR RIGHTS UNDER DATA PROTECTION LAWS?

Here is a list of the rights that all individuals have under data protection laws. They do not apply in all circumstances. If you wish to exercise any of them we will explain at that time if they apply or not.

- The right to be informed about your processing of your personal information;
- The right to have your personal information corrected if it is inaccurate and to have incomplete personal information completed;
- The right to object to processing of your personal information;
- The right to restrict processing of your personal information;
- The right to have your personal information erased (the “right to be forgotten”);
- The right to request access to your personal information and to obtain information about how we process it;
- The right to move, copy or transfer your personal information (“data portability”);
- Rights in relation to automated decision making which has a legal effect or otherwise significantly affects you.

More details on the above are available on our website, familybuildingsociety.co.uk/rights or on request. You may also contact our Data Protection Officer.

If you wish to exercise any of these rights against the CRAs, or a broker or other intermediary who is a data controller in its own right, you should contact them separately.

Please let us know if you are unhappy with how we have used your personal information. You also have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner’s Office which enforces data protection laws: <https://ico.org.uk/>

YOUR MARKETING PREFERENCES AND WHAT THIS MEANS

We may use your home address, phone numbers, email address and social media (e.g. Facebook, Google and message facilities in other platforms) to contact you according to your marketing preferences. This means we do this only if we have a legal ground which allows it under data protection laws – see above for what is our legal ground for marketing. You can stop our marketing at any time by writing to us using the details on the back cover or by following the instructions in the marketing email or other communication.

DATA PRIVACY NOTICES FROM OTHER ORGANISATIONS

We have mentioned that we share your personal information with CRAs. They require us to pass on to you information about how they will use your personal information to perform their services or functions as data controllers in their own right. This notice is separate to our own and is set out below.

WHO IS IN OUR GROUP

As at the date of this privacy notice, the members of our Group are:

- Family Building Society (a trading name of National Counties Building Society)

ADOPTED: 23RD OCTOBER 2017

NOTE: The information in this document will be effective from the Adopted Date set out above, except for the information in Sections 9, (data portability right), 11 and 12. These Sections provide information on new rights that will only come into effect from the 25th May 2018, which is the effective date of the General Data Protection Regulation (or the GDPR).

This document describes how the three main credit reference agencies Callcredit, Equifax and Experian, (also called “credit reference agencies” or “CRAs” in this document) each use and share personal data (also called ‘bureau data’) they receive about you and/or your business that is part of or derived from or used in credit activity.

Please note: you shouldn’t think of this document as a complete record of all the personal data each CRA may hold and process, as each has a number of different business functions running through it. To find out more about each CRA’s other businesses, services and personal data processing, go to the website links provided at Section 14 below.

This document answers these questions:

1. Who are the credit reference agencies and how can I contact them?
2. What do credit reference agencies use personal data for?
3. What are the credit reference agencies’ legal grounds for handling personal data?
4. What kinds of personal data do credit reference agencies use, and where do they get it?
5. Who do credit reference agencies share personal data with?
6. Where is personal data stored and sent?
7. How long is personal data kept for?
8. Do the credit reference agencies make decisions about me or profile me?
9. What can I do if I want to see the personal data held about me? Do I have a ‘data portability’ right in connection with my bureau data?
10. What can I do if my personal data is wrong?
11. Can I object to the use of my personal data and have it deleted?
12. Can I restrict what the credit reference agencies do with my personal data?
13. Who can I complain to if I’m unhappy about the use of my personal data?
14. Where can I find out more?

You have the right to object to credit reference agencies using your personal data.

Please see Section 11 to find out more.

2. WHAT DO CREDIT REFERENCE AGENCIES USE PERSONAL DATA FOR?

(A) CREDIT REFERENCE AGENCY PROCESSING

Credit reference agencies receive personal data about you that's part of, derived from or used in credit activity. Different lenders and creditors will use different CRA services, and may not use all the services described here, so we recommend you also check your lender and creditor's privacy policy(s) as well as this document.

Credit reporting and affordability checks

Each CRA uses the data it gathers to provide credit reporting services to its clients.

Organisations use credit reporting services to see the financial position of people and businesses. For example, a lender or creditor may check with a credit reference agency when an individual or business applies for credit and the lender or creditor needs to make a credit decision taking into account that person or business's credit history.

Affordability checks help organisations understand whether people applying for credit or financial products (like loans) are likely to afford the repayments.

These activities help promote responsible lending, prevent people and businesses from getting into more debt than they can afford, and reduce the amount of unrecoverable debt and insolvencies.

Verifying data like identity, age and residence, and preventing and detecting criminal activity, fraud and money laundering

The CRAs also use bureau data to provide verification, crime prevention and detection services to their clients, as well as fraud and anti-money laundering services. For example:

- When a person applies to an organisation for a product or service, the organisation might ask them to answer questions about themselves, and then check the answers against the data held by the CRAs to see if they're correct. This helps confirm the person they are dealing with is not trying to commit identity theft or any other kind of fraud.

- Where some products and services are only available to people of a certain age, organisations can check whether the person they're dealing with is eligible by searching the CRAs databases.
- If a person applies for credit the lender or creditor might check the personal data that person gives them against the personal data held by CRAs to try and prevent fraud.
- Government and quasi-government bodies can use data held by CRAs to check whether people are entitled to certain benefits and to help recover unpaid taxes, overpaid benefits and similar debts.

Account management

CRAs supply information including personal data to their clients for account management, which is the ongoing maintenance of the client organisation's relationship with its customers. This could include activities designed to support:

- data accuracy (such as data cleansing - where bureau data can be used to clean or update lender data. This might involve checks that data is in the right format or fields, or to correct spelling errors);
- clients' ongoing account management activities. (For example, data sharing with lenders and creditors so clients can make decisions relating to credit limit adjustments, transaction authorisations, and to identify and manage the accounts of customers at risk, in early stress, in arrears, or going through a debt collection process, or to confirm that assets are connected to the right person).

Tracing and debt recovery

CRA's provide services that allow organisations to use bureau data to trace people who've moved. Each CRA also offers a service that allows people to be reunited with assets (like an old dormant savings account they've lost contact with).

CRA's may also use personal data to support debt recovery and debtor tracing. An example of a tracing activity could be when a person owes money and moves house without telling the creditor where they've gone. The creditor may need help finding that person to claim back what they're owed. CRA's help find missing debtors by providing creditors with updated addresses and contact details.

Screening

CRA's can use some personal data to screen people out of marketing lists. For example, where a person's financial history suggests they're unlikely to be accepted for or afford a particular product, the relevant organisation can use that data to opt out of sending them information about that product. This helps stop people receiving irrelevant marketing, and saves organisations the costs of inappropriate marketing and unsuccessful applications.

The data isn't used to identify, select and send marketing materials to potential new customers.

Statistical analysis, analytics and profiling

CRA's can use and allow the use of personal data for statistical analysis and analytics purposes, for example, to create scorecards, models and variables in connection with the assessment of credit, fraud, risk or to verify identities, to monitor and predict market trends, to allow use by lenders for refining lending and fraud strategies, and for analysis such as loss forecasting.

Database activities

CRA's carry out certain processing activities internally which support databases effectiveness and efficiencies. For example:

- Data loading: where data supplied to the CRA's is checked for integrity, validity, consistency, quality and age help make sure it's fit for purpose. These checks pick up things like irregular dates of birth, names, addresses, account start and default dates, and gaps in status history.
- Data matching: where data supplied to the CRA's is matched to their existing databases to help make sure it's assigned to the right person, even when there are discrepancies like spelling mistakes or different versions of a person's name. CRA's use the personal data people give lenders together with data from other sources to create and confirm identities, which they use to underpin the services they provide.
- Data linking: as CRA's compile data into their databases, they create links between different pieces of data. For example, people who appear financially associated with each other may be linked together, and addresses where someone has previously lived can be linked to each other and to that person's current address.
- Systems and product testing: data may be used to help support the development and testing of new products and technologies.

Each CRA has its own processes and standards for data loading, data matching and other database processing activities.

Other uses with your permission

From time to time CRA's may use the personal data they hold or receive about you for other purposes where you've given your consent.

Uses as required by or permitted by law

Your personal data may also be used for other purposes where required or permitted by law.

Other activities

Each credit reference agency also has other lines of business not described in this document. For example, each offers its own marketing services and direct-to-consumer services. Each CRA will provide separate information as appropriate for any services that fall outside of scope of this document.

(B) WHAT IS A FRAUD PREVENTION AGENCY?

A Fraud Prevention Agency (FPA) collects, maintains and shares, data on known and suspected fraudulent activity. All three credit reference agencies also act as FPAs.

(C) FRAUD PREVENTION AGENCY PROCESSING

How data may be used by fraud prevention agencies:

FPAs may supply the data received from lenders and creditors about you, your financial associates and your business (if you have one) to other organisations (please see Section 5 for more information on these organisations). This may be used by them and the CRAs to: -

- Prevent crime, fraud and money laundering by, for example:
 - Checking details provided on applications for credit and credit related or other products and services
 - Managing credit and credit related accounts or products or services

3. WHAT ARE THE CREDIT REFERENCE AGENCIES' LEGAL GROUNDS FOR HANDLING PERSONAL DATA?

LEGITIMATE INTERESTS

The UK's data protection law allows the use of personal data where its purpose is legitimate and isn't outweighed by the interests, fundamental rights or freedoms of data subjects.

The law calls this the Legitimate Interests condition for personal data processing.

The Legitimate Interests being pursued here are:

INTEREST	EXPLANATION
Promoting responsible lending and helping to prevent over-indebtedness.	Responsible lending means that lenders only sell products that are affordable and suitable for the borrowers' circumstances. CRAs help ensure this by sharing personal data about potential borrowers, their financial associates where applicable, and their financial history. A comprehensive range of measures exists in the UK to underpin the balance so the legitimate interests aren't outweighed by the interests, fundamental rights and freedoms of data subjects. Further explanation about this balance is set out below.
Helping prevent and detect crime and fraud and anti-money laundering services and verify identity	CRAs provide identity, fraud and anti-money laundering services to help clients meet legal and regulatory obligations, and to the benefit of individuals to support identity verification and support of detection/prevention of fraud and money laundering.
Supporting tracing and collections	CRAs provide services that support tracing and collections where there is a legitimate interest in the client conducting activity to find its customer and to recover the debt, or to reunite, or confirm an asset is connected with, the right person.
Complying with and supporting compliance with legal and regulatory requirements	CRAs have to comply with various legal and regulatory requirements. CRA services also help other organisations comply with their own legal and regulatory obligations. One example, many kinds of financial services are regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority or the Prudential Regulation Authority, who impose obligations to check that financial products are suitable for the people they are being sold to. The credit reference agencies provide data to help with those checks.

The CRAs use of this personal data is subject to an extensive framework of safeguards that help make sure that people's rights are protected. These include the information given to people about how their personal data will be used and how they can exercise their rights to obtain their personal data, have it corrected or restricted, object to it being processed, and complain if they're dissatisfied. These safeguards help sustain a fair and appropriate balance so the CRAs' activities don't override the interests, fundamental rights and freedoms of data subjects.

4. WHAT KINDS OF PERSONAL DATA DO CREDIT REFERENCE AGENCIES USE, AND WHERE DO THEY GET IT?

Each credit reference agency obtains and uses information from different sources, so they often hold different information and personal data from each other. However, most of the personal data they do hold falls into the categories outlined below from the sources described.

INFORMATION TYPE	DESCRIPTION	SOURCE
Identifiers	CRA's hold personal data that can be used to identify people, like their name, date of birth, and current and previous addresses. They may also hold business data.	This personal data is included with all the other data sources. For example, names, addresses and dates of birth are attached to financial account data so it can be matched and associated with all the other data the CRA holds about the relevant person. Data about UK postal addresses is also obtained from sources like Royal Mail. CRA's also obtain copies of the electoral register containing the names and addresses of registered voters from local authorities across the UK in accordance with specific legislation. CRA's also have access to public data sources on people and businesses, including from the Insolvency Service, Companies House and commercial business directories.

Lender-provided and creditor provided data	CRA's receive information that includes personal data from credit applications and about the financial accounts that people hold from the organisations that maintain those accounts. This includes personal data about bank accounts, credit card accounts, mortgage accounts and other agreements that involve a credit arrangement like utilities and communications contracts (including mobile and internet). The collected data includes the name of the organisation the account is held with, the date it was opened, the account number, the amount of debt outstanding (if any), any credit limits and the repayment history on the account, including late and missing payments. CRA's may also receive data about financial accounts like current accounts, credit cards or loans and may receive payments information that businesses hold from the organisations who maintain those accounts.	Banks, building societies, lenders and other financial services providers supply data including personal data about peoples' financial accounts and repayments. Other credit providers, such as hire purchase companies, utilities companies, mobile phone networks, retail and mail order, and insurance companies also provide this data when they agree credit facilities with their customers. These organisations may also provide Cifas markers when they suspect fraud. You can find out more about Cifas markers in the Fraud prevention indicators section below.
Court judgments, decrees and administration orders	CRA's obtain data about court judgments that have been issued against people. This may include, for example, the name of the court, the nature of the judgment, how much money was owed, and whether the judgment has been satisfied.	The government makes court judgments and other decrees and orders are made publicly available through statutory public registers. These are maintained by Registry Trust Limited, which also supplies the data on the registers to the CRA's.
Bankruptcies, Individual Voluntary Arrangement (IVAs), debt relief orders and similar events	CRA's obtain data about insolvency-related events that happen to people and may also obtain this type of data about businesses. This includes data about bankruptcies, IVAs and debt relief orders, and in Scotland it includes sequestrations, trust deeds and debt arrangement schemes. This data includes the start and end dates of the relevant insolvency or arrangement.	CRA's obtain this data from The Insolvency Service, the Accountant in Bankruptcy, The Stationary Office and Northern Ireland's Department for the Economy – Insolvency Service, the London, Belfast and Edinburgh Gazettes. Business bankruptcies data are obtained from the London, Belfast and Edinburgh Gazettes.

HOW WE USE PERSONAL INFORMATION

Fraud prevention indicators	The CRAs are all Fraud Prevention Agencies (FPAs) and members of Cifas (www.cifas.org.uk), an organisation that collects and shares data about suspected fraud. When an organisation believes it's detected fraud or an attempted fraud, it may put a Cifas marker on the relevant person's credit file to warn other lenders this identity may have been used fraudulently. This helps to prevent any further fraud and protect innocent consumers.	These fraud indicators are shared among Cifas members through the database held by Cifas.
Gone Away Data Network indicators	Some CRAs are members of the Gone Away Data Network (GAIN), a database of people with overdue outstanding debts who've moved without giving their lender a forwarding address. Data from GAIN, including the persons' old addresses and any known new addresses, may be recorded on the relevant credit file.	CRAs obtain GAIN data from lenders, and additional address data is obtained from Royal Mail.
Search footprints	When an organisation uses a CRA to make enquiries about a particular person, the CRA keeps a record of that enquiry which appears on the person's credit file. This includes the name of the organisation, the date, and the reason they gave for making the enquiry.	CRAs generate search footprints when enquiries are made about a particular person. The organisation making the enquiry provides some of the data in the footprint (such as the reason for the enquiry).
Scores and ratings	CRAs may use the data they receive to produce scores and ratings including credit, affordability, risk, fraud and identity, screening, collections and insolvency scores about people and businesses and credit ratings about people. Organisations that obtain data from CRAs may use it together with other data to provide their own scores and ratings. Credit scores and credit ratings are produced from data like the person's credit commitments, whether they have made repayments on time, whether they've any history of insolvencies or court judgments, and how long they've lived at their current address. Each CRA has its own way of calculating credit scores, and most lenders have their own scoring systems too.	The CRAs produce their scores and ratings using the data available to them. Similarly, other organisations create their own scores and ratings from data obtained from the CRAs as well as other sources.

Other supplied data	CRAs receive data from reputable commercial sources. This includes phone number data and politically exposed persons (PEPs) and sanctions data.	CRAs receive this data from reputable commercial sources as agreed from time to time.
Other derived data	The CRAs produce some other kinds of data themselves to manage their databases efficiently and ensure that all the relevant data about a person is on the correct credit file. Address links: when a CRA detects that a person seems to have moved house, it may create and store a link between the old and new address. Aliases: when a CRA believes that a person has changed their name, it may record the old name alongside the new one. Financial associations and linked people: when a CRA believes two or more people are financially linked with each other (for example, because they have a joint account), it may record that fact. Flags and triggers: through analysis of other data, CRAs can add indicators to credit files. These aim to summarise particular aspects of a person's financial situation. For example, a Cifas flag protects those who've been flagged as subject to fraud, and invites additional checks as a defence against further fraud risk.	The CRAs generate this data from the data sources available to them.
Data provided by the relevant people	People sometimes provide data directly to CRAs. For example, they can ask a CRA to add a supplementary statement to their credit file if they want to explain the reason for a particular entry on the file. The right to do this is explained in Section 10 below.	This data is provided directly by the relevant people.

5. WHO DO CREDIT REFERENCE AGENCIES SHARE PERSONAL DATA WITH?

This section describes the types of recipient each credit reference agency can share data with. Each CRA has its own access control processes in place. For example, before it shares data with any other organisation, to check that organisation's identity and, where applicable, to confirm where it is registered with regulators.

In many cases where an organisation uses CRA services, there will be information accessible, for example, from website or at point of application or service, to explain that an organisation may check your data with a credit reference agency (for things like identity authentication and fraud checking). In some cases, some organisations have the ability to compel CRAs, by law, to disclose certain data for certain purposes.

Members of the credit reference agency data sharing arrangements

Each organisation that shares financial data with the CRAs is also entitled to receive similar kinds of financial data contributed by other organisations. These organisations are typically banks, building societies, and other lenders, as well as other credit providers like utilities companies and mobile phone networks.

Fraud Prevention Agencies

If a CRA believes that fraud has been or might be committed, it may share data with fraud prevention agencies (FPAs). These FPAs collect, maintain and share data on known and suspected fraudulent activity. Some CRAs also act as FPAs.

Resellers, distributors and agents

CRAs sometimes use other organisations to help provide their services to clients and may provide personal data to them in connection with that purpose.

Other organisations

Some data, where permitted in accordance with industry rules or where it's public information, can be shared with other organisations that have a legitimate use for it - ID verification services, for example.

Public bodies, law enforcement and regulators

The police and other law enforcement agencies, as well as public bodies like local and central authorities and the CRAs' regulators, can sometimes request the credit reference agencies to supply them with personal data. This can be for a range of purposes such as preventing or detecting crime, fraud, apprehending or prosecuting offenders, assessing or collecting tax, investigating complaints or assessing how well a particular industry sector is working.

Processors

The CRAs may use other organisations to perform tasks on their own behalf (for example, IT service providers and call centre providers).

Individuals

People are entitled to obtain copies of the personal data the CRAs hold about them. You can find out how to do this in Section 9 below.

6. WHERE IS PERSONAL DATA STORED AND SENT?

The three CRAs are all based in the UK, and keep their main databases there. They may also have operations elsewhere inside and outside the European Economic Area, and personal data may be accessed from those locations too. In both cases, the personal data use in those locations is protected by European data protection standards.

Sometimes the CRAs will need to send or allow access to personal data from elsewhere in the world. This might be the case, for example, when a processor or client of the CRA is based overseas or uses overseas data centres.

While countries in the European Economic Area all ensure a high standard of data protection law, some parts of the world may not provide the same level of legal protection when it comes to personal data. As a result, when a CRA does send personal data overseas it will make sure suitable safeguards are in place in accordance with European data protection requirements, to protect the data. For example, these safeguards might include:

- Sending the data to a country that's been approved by the European authorities as having a suitably high standard of data protection law. Examples include the Isle of Man, Switzerland and Canada.
- Putting in place a contract with the recipient containing terms approved by the European authorities as providing a suitable level of protection.
- Sending the data to an organisation which is a member of a scheme that's been approved by the European authorities as providing a suitable level of protection. One example is the Privacy Shield scheme agreed between the European and US authorities. Another example is Binding Corporate Rules.

If your data has been sent overseas like this, you can find out more about the safeguards used from the CRAs, whose contact details are in Section 1 above.

7. FOR HOW LONG IS PERSONAL DATA RETAINED?

Identifiers

Identification data like names and addresses are kept while there's a continuing need to keep it. This need will be assessed on a regular basis, and data that's no longer needed for any purpose will be disposed of.

Financial accounts and repayment data

Data about live and settled accounts is kept on credit files for six years from the date they're settled or closed. If the account is recorded as defaulted, the data is kept for six years from the date of the default.

Court judgments, decrees and administration orders

Generally, court judgments and other decrees and orders are kept on credit files for six years from the date of the judgment, decree or order. But, they can be removed if the debt is repaid within one calendar month of the original date or if the judgment is set aside or recalled by the courts.

Bankruptcies, IVAs, debt relief orders and similar events

Data about bankruptcies, IVAs and other insolvency-related events and arrangements are usually kept on credit files for six years from the date they begin. This period is extended if they last longer than six years. Some data, such as a bankruptcy restrictions order, can also remain on the credit file for longer than six years.

Although the start of these events is automatically reported to the CRAs, the end (such as a discharge from bankruptcy or completion of an IVA) might not be. This is why people are advised to contact the CRAs when this happens to make sure their credit files are updated accordingly.

Search footprints

The CRAs keep search footprints for different lengths of time. Experian and Equifax keep most search footprints for one year from the date of the search, although they keep debt collection searches for up to two years. Callcredit keeps search footprints for two years from the date of the search.

Scores and ratings

CRAs may keep credit scores and credit ratings for as long as they keep a credit file about the relevant person.

Derived or created data

CRAs also create data, and links and matches between data. For example, CRAs keep address links and aliases for as long as they're considered relevant for credit referencing purposes.

Links between people are kept on credit files for as long as the CRA believes those individuals continue to be financially connected. When two people stop being financially connected, either can write to the CRA and ask for the link to be removed. The CRA will then follow a process to check the people are no longer associated with each other.

Other data

Other third party supplied data such as politically exposed persons (PEPs) and sanctions data and mortality data will be stored for a period determined by criteria such as the agreed contractual terms.

Archived data

CRAs may hold data in an archived form for longer than the periods described above, for things like research and development, analytics and analysis, (including refining lending and fraud strategies, scorecard development and other analysis such as loss forecasting), for audit purposes, and as appropriate for establishment, exercise or defence or legal claims. The criteria used to determine the storage period will include the legal limitation of liability period, agreed contractual provisions, applicable regulatory requirements and industry standards.

8. DO THE CREDIT REFERENCE AGENCIES MAKE DECISIONS ABOUT ME OR PROFILE ME?

Lending decisions

CRA's don't tell a lender if it should offer you credit – this is for the lender to decide. Credit reference agencies provide data and analytics that help lenders make decisions about lending. The scoring tools and data CRA's provide may profile you, and are often a valuable tool in the lender's overall processes and with the criteria they use to make their decisions. A lender's own data, knowledge, processes and practices will also generally play a significant role in that lender's business decisions - and lender decisions will always remain for lenders to make.

The same analytics from a CRA may lead to different decisions from different lenders, as they can place differing importance on some factors than others. That's why you may receive a "yes" from one lender but a "no" from another.

The data CRA's provide is just one of the things that a lender might take into account when they make a lending decision. The lender might also take into account data provided by the person applying for credit, as well as any other data available to the lender from other sources. Each lender will have its own criteria for deciding whether or not to lend.

Scores and ratings

When requested, CRA's do use the data they obtain to produce credit, risk, fraud, identity, affordability, screening, collection and/or insolvency scores and credit ratings; these are explained in Section 4 above. CRA's don't tell a lender if it should offer you credit – this is for the lender to decide. Each credit reference agency, and each lender, will have its own criteria for how to calculate a credit score, but the following factors will usually have an effect:

- How long the person has lived at their address.
- The number and type of credit agreements and how they use those credit products.

- Whether the person has been late making payments.
- Whether the person has had any court judgments made against them.
- Whether the person has been bankrupt or had an IVA or other form of debt-related arrangement.

The CRA's may provide or make available further information on profiling where necessary from time to time.

9. WHAT CAN I DO IF I WANT TO SEE THE PERSONAL DATA HELD ABOUT ME? DO I HAVE A 'PORTABILITY RIGHT' IN CONNECTION WITH MY BUREAU DATA?

DATA ACCESS RIGHT

You have a right to find out what personal data the credit reference agencies hold about you.

Each CRA provides more information about access rights on their websites.

NOTE: The information in this document will be effective from the Adopted Date set out on the first page, except for the information in this Section 9 (data portability right), and in Sections 11 and 12. These Sections provide information on new rights that will only come into effect from the 25th May 2018, which is the effective date of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

DATA PORTABILITY RIGHT

New data protection legislation also contains a right to data portability that may give consumers a right in some data processing contexts, to receive their personal data in a portable format when it's processed on certain grounds, such as consent.

This is not a right that will apply to bureau data because this data is processed on the grounds of legitimate interests. To find out more about legitimate interests please go to Section 3 above.

10. WHAT CAN I DO IF MY PERSONAL DATA IS WRONG?

When the CRAs receive personal data, they perform lots of checks on it to try and detect any defects or mistakes. Ultimately, though, the credit reference agencies rely on the suppliers to provide accurate data.

If you think that any personal data a CRA holds about you is wrong or incomplete, you have the right to challenge it. It's worth knowing that the CRA won't have the right to change the data without permission from the organisation that supplied it, so the credit reference agency will need to take reasonable steps to check the data first, such as asking the organisation that supplied it to check and confirm its accuracy.

If the data does turn out to be wrong, the CRA will update its records accordingly. If the CRA still believes the data is correct after completing their checks, they'll continue to hold and keep it - although you can ask them to add a note to your file indicating that you disagree or providing an explanation of the circumstances.

If you'd like to do this, you should contact the relevant CRA using their contact details in Section 1 above.

11. CAN I OBJECT TO THE USE OF MY PERSONAL DATA AND HAVE IT DELETED?

NOTE: The information in this document will be effective from the Adopted Date set out on the first page, except for the information in Section 9, (data portability right), this Section 11 and in Section 12. These Sections provide information on new rights that will only come into effect from the 25th May 2018, which is the effective date of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

This section helps you understand how to use your data protection rights to object to your personal data being used and how to ask for it to be deleted, in connection with bureau data. To understand these rights and how they apply to the processing of bureau data, it's important to know that the CRAs hold and process personal information in bureau data under the Legitimate Interests ground for processing (see Section 4 above for more information about this), and don't rely on consent for this processing.

You have the right to lodge an objection about the processing of your personal data to a CRA. If you want to do this, you should contact the relevant CRA using the contact details set out in Section 1 above.

Whilst you have complete freedom to contact a CRA with your objection at any time, you should know that under the General Data Protection

Regulation, your right to object doesn't automatically lead to a requirement for processing to stop, or for personal data to be deleted, in all cases.

Please note that, because of the importance of the credit referencing industry to the UK's financial system, and the important purposes the personal data is needed for (like supporting responsible lending, and preventing over indebtedness, fraud and money laundering) it will be very rare that the CRAs do not have compelling, overriding grounds to carry on using the personal data following an objection. In many cases, it won't be appropriate for the CRAs to restrict or to stop processing or delete bureau data, for example, where the result would be to hide a poor credit history that could enable a person or organisation to get credit they otherwise wouldn't be eligible for.

12. CAN I RESTRICT WHAT THE CREDIT REFERENCE AGENCIES DO WITH MY PERSONAL DATA?

NOTE: The information in this document will be effective from the Adopted Date set out on the first page, except for the information in Section 9, (data portability right), Section 11 and in this Section 12. These Sections provide information on new rights that will only come into effect from the 25th May 2018, which is the effective date of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

In some circumstances, you can ask credit reference agencies to restrict how they use your personal data. Your rights are set out at Article 18 of the GDPR. You can find the contact details for each CRA in Section 1 above.

This is not an absolute right, and your personal data may still be processed where certain grounds exist. This is:

- With your consent;
- For the establishment, exercise, or defence of legal claims;
- For the protection of the rights of another natural or legal person;
- For reasons of important public interest.

Only one of these grounds needs to be demonstrated to continue data processing.

The CRAs will consider and respond to requests they receive, including assessing the applicability of these exemptions.

Please note that given the importance of complete and accurate credit records, for purposes including for responsible lending, it will usually be appropriate to continue processing credit report data – in particular, to protect the rights of another natural or legal person, or because it's an important public interest of the union or member state.

13. WHO CAN I COMPLAIN TO IF I'M UNHAPPY ABOUT THE USE OF MY PERSONAL DATA?

Each credit reference agency tries to ensure they deliver the best customer service levels but if you're not happy you should contact them so they can investigate your concerns.

General Conditions for our savings accounts

General conditions

Information that applies to all accounts

How to contact us

Our Savings Account Service Team and Epsom branch are open between Monday and Saturday (excluding bank holidays). Please refer to our website for full opening hours.

Please note, ways of contacting us may be restricted in relation to certain products. If so, this is stated in the Product Features leaflet of the particular account. You can request a copy of these terms and conditions and the Product Features leaflet and Summary Box relevant to your account at any time whilst your account remains open.

For more information please call us or email us (see last page for relevant contact details), alternatively please visit our website ncbs.co.uk/savings

Changing your mind

As long as you tell us within 15 calendar days of the date your account was opened that you are not happy with your choice of account, you may close your account, subject to any cheque clearance. You can either withdraw these savings or transfer them to another account with us. You can do this without a charge. We will pay interest up to, but not including, the day your account is closed. To let us know you want to change your account, please write to us using the address on the back page. If you don't let us know, you will continue to be bound by the terms and conditions, and any other special conditions that may apply to your account.

Please note, if you cancel a Cash ISA it will not count towards your ISA subscription limits for the tax year.

Interest rate

If the rate of interest on your savings is variable, we are able to vary the rate in accordance with Condition 14 of the terms and conditions on pages 11 and 12 of this booklet.

We will let you know the interest rate currently payable for all your savings accounts each April with our Annual Savings Summary.

You can check the interest rate applying to your account and other accounts currently available at any time on our website at ncbs.co.uk or by calling our Savings Account Service Team on 03300 243411.

Payment of interest

Interest is calculated on a daily basis. Your savings earn interest from the day of receipt (or from the day your account is opened, if this is later) until, but not including, the day of withdrawal. Unless your account terms specify how interest will be paid, you can choose to have the interest added to your account or to another account with us or directly to a pre-nominated bank or building society account in your name. If we pay interest to another account, any interest arising from transactions in the final days of the month of payment will be reflected in the next interest payment we make to you.

Monthly interest, where available, is paid at a reduced rate of interest and must be paid to another account in your name. If you would like to change your interest payment instructions, we must receive these in writing at least one month before the next interest payment.

If the interest due to you at the interest payment date is a debit figure instead of a credit figure, we will give you 14 calendar days' notice before the debit interest is posted to your account. This may happen if penalty interest for an early withdrawal outweighs the interest earned for the period.

Personal Savings Allowance

The introduction of the Personal Savings Allowance means that from 6 April 2016 most people no longer pay tax on their cash savings income. The allowance is £1,000 for basic rate taxpayers and £500 for higher rate taxpayers. There is usually no allowance for additional rate tax payers.

From 6 April 2016 building societies and banks have stopped deducting tax from the interest they pay on your savings. Instead, interest is paid gross on your savings accounts.

Whilst you remain a customer, each April we will send you an Annual Savings Summary showing the interest paid on all of your accounts in the previous tax year. This shows the interest rate, amount of interest paid and confirmation of the account balance for all accounts currently open, or that were closed during the previous tax year.

Please note, you will need to declare any income from savings interest over your Personal Savings Allowance to HMRC. For further information on how the allowance works and/or how to declare this income, please contact HMRC. National Counties Building Society is unable to help you with this.

The interest paid on Cash ISAs remains tax-free, because it is exempt from income tax under rules set by the Government. This means that it does not count towards your Personal Savings Allowance because it is already tax-free. The tax treatment of ISAs may vary in future.

The overall tax treatment of your savings depends on your individual circumstances and may be subject to change in the future.

Keeping track of your savings

Details of the current balance, transaction history and interest paid can be viewed using our internet-based service, National Counties Online Service (registration required). If we issue a passbook for your account, this should be kept in a safe place and posted to us to update each time a withdrawal is made online.

Please let us know as soon as possible if you change your name, address, telephone number or email address so we can keep you up to date with information about your account.

Online Service

Our Online Service provides secure access to your account(s). It allows you to open additional savings accounts and, for certain accounts, you can pay money in using your debit card or make a withdrawal. To register, visit our website at ncbs.co.uk, click on the link provided and follow the on screen instructions. Once registered, your access to the service is normally activated within two to four working days.

The Online Service may not be available for certain products, transactions or customers. If so, this is stated in the Product Features leaflet of the particular account.

Joint accounts

Unless the special conditions for a particular account specify otherwise, accounts can be opened in the names of two or more people, up to a maximum of four.

Unless you tell us otherwise in writing, each account holder can separately make withdrawals, authorise transactions or issue instructions in connection with the account. This means it is possible for one account holder to withdraw the full balance and/or close the account.

In the event of the death of one holder, ownership of the account will pass to the survivor(s).

Although joint accounts can be convenient, it is important that you read and understand the consequences of having an account in more than one name. These are set out in Condition 3 of the terms and conditions on pages 5 and 6 of this booklet.

Membership

We offer share and deposit accounts. Share accounts are only available to private individuals investing on their own behalf or on trust for other individuals. A deposit account can be opened by a corporate body, such as a limited company, or by individuals investing as trustees for other groups of people, such as clubs or similar organisations.

Individuals holding share accounts with the Society are members of the Society and are bound by our Rules. These are available on request or from our website.

The Rules set out the rights and obligations attached to membership. These include the right to receive notification of and attend the Annual General Meeting and to vote in elections for the board of directors. While joint account holders are also members, the first named account holder on our records is treated as the Representative Joint Holder. This entitles them to exercise the rights of membership (including voting rights) arising from the account. This is subject to any rights given to other holders by any legislation.

You can choose the order the names appear on our records. Any change in the order will happen when our records are actually changed. We will make the change within a reasonable time after you tell us.

New members are also bound by our five year Charitable Assignment. The full details of this are available on request from the Society or on our website.

Holders of deposit accounts are not members but are bound by the Rules of the Society.

Account terms

The terms and conditions that apply to all our savings accounts are set out on pages 5 to 16 of this booklet. Special conditions may apply to particular types of account. You will find them in the Product Features leaflet and Summary Box. Details of the interest rates which apply to our savings accounts are available on our website or by calling us.

We may amend the terms and conditions of our accounts in accordance with Condition 16 of the terms and conditions on page 13 of this booklet.

Some of our savings accounts are limited issue. This means we may withdraw these accounts from sale at any time. Once an account has been withdrawn from sale, you may no longer be able to add any further funds to it. The special conditions for your account will explain whether or not an account is a limited issue account. It will also explain whether or not you will be able to add any further funds to it after it has been withdrawn from sale.

Data protection and confidentiality

Under data protection laws you have the right to see the personal records we hold about you. Please contact us for more details (please see last page for relevant contact information).

We will hold data about you while you are a customer, and we will continue to hold data on you after your relationship with us as a customer stops. You can always let us know if information we hold about you has changed, so that we can make sure it is up to date.

You can find more details about the information we hold about you, and what we use it for in the application form and in its accompanying leaflet "How we use Personal Information".

We will treat all your personal information as private and confidential, even when you are no longer a customer. We will not give your details to anyone (even other companies in our group) unless:

- we have to give the information by law
- there is a duty to the public to disclose it
- you request us to disclose it, or we have your permission to do so; or
- our interests require us to give the information (for example, to prevent fraud). We will not use this as a reason for giving your information for marketing purposes.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

Effective from 5 April 2019

1 INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 These terms and conditions (referred to as the “Conditions”) apply to all savings accounts with the Society, except if they are inconsistent with any “special conditions” for particular accounts (in which case those “special conditions” will apply).
- 1.2 “Special conditions” are the interest rates and other terms that apply to a specific account that are not included in the Conditions. These will include, for example, minimum and maximum balances, eligibility criteria, restrictions on account functionality, interest rates, charges, and notice periods. We will give you these special conditions separately in the Product Features leaflet and Summary Box. Details of the interest rates which apply to our savings accounts are available on our website or by calling our Savings Account Service Team.
- 1.3 Our agreement with you for your account is a combination of these Conditions and any special conditions applying to your account.
- 1.4 In the Conditions:
- “the Society”, “we”, “us” and “our” refer to National Counties Building Society;
 - “you” and “your” refers to the account holder(s);
 - “electronic payment” means a payment to or from the account made by any means other than cash or cheque;
 - “National Counties Online Service” and “Online Service” mean the service we provide that allows you to obtain information from us and to carry out transactions on your account(s) with us over the internet;
 - “nominated account” is an account with another United Kingdom (UK) bank or building society that you choose to receive electronic payments from your account. It must be in your name, either solely or jointly with others;
 - “payee” means the person who is intended to receive money under a transaction;
 - “payer” means the person who gives or consents to an instruction to make a payment;
 - “Principal Office” means our office at Ebbisham House, 30 Church Street, Epsom, Surrey KT17 4NL;
 - “transaction” and “transactions” are payments of money into and out of your account;
 - “working day” means Monday to Friday, excluding English bank or public holidays.
- 1.5 Unless the special conditions of the account state otherwise, you may only open an account if you are 16 or over. This does not apply to accounts opened before 13 January 2018.
- 1.6 To open an account you and, in the case of a deposit account, all authorised signatories, must be resident in the UK (excluding the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man) for tax purposes or, if not resident, you must be a Crown employee serving overseas or married to or in a civil partnership with a Crown employee serving overseas. If you are also a tax resident overseas, hold US citizenship or tax residency or later become a tax resident overseas, we may need to report your details to HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC). HMRC may transfer your details to another government overseas in accordance with relevant international tax agreements. You must tell us as soon as reasonably possible of any changes to your tax residency.
- 1.7 All payments into your account must be in Sterling. All payments out of your account will be in Sterling.

2 MINIMUM AND MAXIMUM INVESTMENT

- 2.1 The overall maximum holding any one individual can have with the Society for all share accounts is £2,000,000.
- 2.2 The overall maximum holding by any one account holder for all deposit accounts with the Society is £500,000.
- 2.3 The minimum and maximum amounts that you can invest in any particular account are set out in the special conditions of the account.
- 2.4 If your account balance falls below the minimum investment stated in the special conditions for that account you will continue to be bound by the remaining special conditions. We may close your account or pay a reduced rate of interest depending on the terms of the special conditions.

3 JOINT ACCOUNTS

- 3.1 If the account is held in joint names, we will accept the authority of any one of you to make withdrawals and to provide any other instructions in connection with the account. Any one of you may instruct us in writing at any time to only accept the authority of two or more account holders in relation to the operation of a joint account. If a relationship breakdown occurs, either or both parties may wish to provide such instruction. On receipt of this instruction we will require the written authorisation of both parties to operate the account.

- 3.2 On proof of the death of any joint account holder, we will recognise only the survivor(s) as having any ownership of or interest in the account. The survivor(s) are entitled to operate the account on the same terms. We do not accept accounts on any other basis.
- 3.3 If we think there is a dispute between the account holders which we reasonably believe is genuine we may (but will not be obliged to) require the signatures of all account holders to authorise any transaction or other changes to the account. This is despite any authorisation that was given to us previously under Condition 3.1.
- 3.4 We may (in accordance with Condition 8.2) refuse to carry out a transaction or restrict the amount that can be withdrawn if we think there is a dispute which we reasonably believe to be genuine that involves a third party, in relation to the ownership of the money in the account.
- 3.5 Any correspondence relating to the account is sent to the address of the first named account holder, unless you instruct us otherwise.
- 3.6 These Conditions apply to all account holders together and each of you separately. This means that each of you can be held fully responsible for complying with these Conditions. We will treat all of you as jointly entitled to all the money in the account.

4 PAYING MONEY INTO YOUR ACCOUNT

- 4.1 Subject to the special conditions of your account, you can pay money into your account by cheque, debit card or in cash at our branch during our normal opening hours, by post (cheques only), by transfer from another Society account, by direct debit or by other electronic payment (although you will need to set this up direct with your bank or building society). For security reasons we do not recommend that cash is sent by post. Please see Condition 9.6 regarding when interest becomes payable.
- 4.2 If you pay money in by cash at our branch, you will need to show us your passbook or provide your account number. For security reasons, we reserve the right to refuse large sums of money in notes or coins. Details of our current branch limits are available from our branch or from the Society on request.
- 4.3 Cheques made payable to the Society will only be accepted for payment into an account if they contain additional details (such as the name(s) of the account holder(s) or the account number), to make it clear who the money is intended for. This is to protect against fraud.

5 WITHDRAWING MONEY FROM YOUR ACCOUNT

- 5.1 Subject to the special conditions of your account, you can withdraw money from your account in cash at our branch during our normal opening hours (a daily limit applies, as set out in Condition 8.1). You can also withdraw money by cheque payable to you, or by electronic payment direct to your nominated account. Our cheques will not be stopped except when they have been lost or stolen.
- 5.2 We will need to verify your nominated account details and, wherever possible, we will carry out an electronic check. If we cannot verify your nominated account details electronically we will tell you what we need from you in order to confirm your account details.
- 5.3 Instructions for withdrawals can be given in writing at our branch, by post, by telephone or by using our Online Service.
- 5.4 So we can carry out your withdrawal instructions correctly, you must provide us with the additional information stated below relevant to the intended transaction, in addition to the payment amount:
 - (a) Internal transfers between your accounts with us – you must tell us the account numbers of the accounts where the payment is to be taken from and credited to.
 - (b) Electronic payment to another bank or building society – you must tell us the account number of the account with us that we are to take the payment from and give us the following information about the account the payment is to be made to: recipients name(s), sort code, account number and, if applicable, any further reference needed to identify the intended destination account.
- 5.5 It is your responsibility to ensure that the details you provide us with are correct. We will not be liable if the electronic payment is delayed or goes to the wrong account or person because you gave us the wrong details, although we will use reasonable efforts to recover the money. If we are unable to recover the money, you can ask us for the information you need in order to claim for repayment of the money.

6 AUTHORISATION OF TRANSACTIONS

- 6.1 The special conditions of the particular account will specify which methods of authorisation you can use for the transaction types available.
- 6.2 Individual or recurring transfers, withdrawals, and payments into your account may be authorised in the following ways:
- (a) at our branch or by post – your written instructions are authorised by your signature matching the copy held in our records for your account.
 - (b) by telephone – once you have correctly answered the questions that we ask you to verify your identity, we will ask you for the details of your intended transaction. These details will be entered into our systems and then read back to you, at which point we will ask you to confirm your instruction. Your verbal confirmation is authorisation for the transaction.
 - (c) via our Online Service – once you have logged in using your security information you will need to enter details of the intended transaction. The Online Service will then ask you to confirm these. Your confirmation is authorisation for the transaction.

7 CANCELLING PAYMENT INSTRUCTIONS

- 7.1 You cannot cancel an instruction to make an electronic payment from your account (or to your account by direct debit) unless you have asked us to make the payment on a future date. If you've asked for it on a future date, you can cancel it up to the end of the working day before the day the payment was due to be made. If you would like to cancel an electronic payment, you can do this at our branch or by post, by telephone or via our Online Service.

8 RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSACTIONS

- 8.1 Cash withdrawals at our branch are limited to £600 per day.
- 8.2 We can refuse to carry out a transaction on your account or restrict the amount which can be withdrawn from your account. We will only do this if we reasonably think that:
- (a) the cleared balance on your account is insufficient to cover the payment;
 - (b) the transaction has not been authorised in accordance with Condition 6;
 - (c) your instructions are not clear or you have not provided us with sufficient details. In this case we will contact you to clarify your instructions or ask you for the relevant details (as applicable);
 - (d) you or someone else may be using the account illegally or fraudulently or outside of these Conditions and/or the special conditions;
 - (e) we are required to do so by law, regulation or court order;
 - (f) there is a dispute (which we reasonably believe to be genuine) about the ownership of, or entitlement to, the money in the account;
 - (g) circumstances beyond our reasonable control prevent us from offering a normal service (such as in the event of terrorist threats, computer systems failure or strikes); or
 - (h) circumstances exist which lead us to reasonably believe our financial stability is under threat (for example, where rumours cause actual or potential abnormal levels of cash withdrawals).

In the case of (g) and (h) above we will:

- (i) act proportionately to the circumstances in question;
- (ii) take all reasonable steps to ensure that the restrictions are lifted as soon as reasonably practical;
- (iii) take into account the interests of the Society's membership as a whole;
- (iv) try to contact you in advance; and
- (v) take all reasonable steps to minimise any inconvenience or financial hardship that would otherwise be caused to you.

In all other cases, we will notify you either verbally or in writing when we have done this as soon as possible, and no later than the end of the next working day following the receipt of your instructions (unless it is unlawful for us to do so or would compromise our reasonable security measures). We will also tell you how to rectify any errors.

9 TIMING OF PAYMENTS INTO YOUR ACCOUNT AND AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS

If the cheque has not cleared we will reduce your account balance accordingly and cancel any interest earned on the money while it was credited to your account.
- 9.4 If a cheque which has been credited to your account is returned unpaid more than six working days after the day of receipt (or, where the day of receipt is a non-working day, more than six working days after the first working day following the day of receipt) we will not deduct the amount of the cheque from your account unless either you agree to this or you have acted fraudulently.
- 9.5 If an electronic payment credited to your account is later recalled by the paying bank we will reduce your account balance accordingly and cancel any interest earned on the money while it was credited to your account.

9.6 Money paid into your account earns interest from the transaction date appearing in your passbook or statement in accordance with Condition 9.1. Cheques withdrawn and later returned for re-investment earn interest from the day of receipt by us.

10.3 Interest is paid on money withdrawn from your account up to but not including the working day of the withdrawal.

11 INFORMATION ABOUT ELECTRONIC PAYMENTS AND OTHER TRANSACTIONS

11.1 We will send you a statement each month that lists the electronic payments on your account (apart from the credit or payment of interest) unless:

- there have been no electronic payments on your account (apart from the credit or payment of interest) during the month; or
- you have chosen not to receive them.

11.2 Along with a reference that enables you to identify the electronic payment, we will provide you with the details of the transaction. This includes the amount, any charges applied to your account for the transaction and the date the transaction was applied to your account. We won't charge you for this information.

- 11.3 You can ask for information about electronic payments and other transactions on your account at any time by calling our Savings Account Service Team or, if you operate your account online, via our Online Service.

12 UNAUTHORISED AND INCORRECTLY EXECUTED TRANSACTIONS

- 12.1 You should check your statements or passbook regularly. If there is an entry which seems to be wrong, you should tell us as soon as possible so we can resolve the matter.

Unauthorised transactions

- 12.2 If we carry out a transaction which was not authorised by you in accordance with Condition 6 or which was cancelled by you in accordance with Condition 7, we will refund the amount of any withdrawal from your account together with any charges you paid as a result. We will also pay you any interest we would have paid you on that amount as soon as practical, and no later than the end of the working day following the time when you let us know. There are two exceptions to this Condition 12.2:

- (a) if we can prove you acted fraudulently, you will be liable for the amount we could not stop; or
- (b) if we can prove you have deliberately or with serious carelessness failed to comply with your obligations under Condition 13, you may be liable for all losses relating to transactions made before you notify us in accordance with Condition 13.

Where we have reasonable grounds to suspect that either (a) or (b) applies, we will investigate the disputed transaction and notify you of the outcome. The burden of proving fraud or deliberate or serious carelessness on your part will lie with us. If we refuse to make a refund under either (a) or (b), we will provide you with the evidence we are relying on, unless it is unlawful for us to do so.

- 12.3 If we make a refund and then discover that you did authorise the transaction or are otherwise liable, we may reverse the refund. We will give you reasonable notice before we do this.

Incorrectly executed transactions

- 12.4 If you have instructed us to make a payment from your account in accordance with Condition 5, we are responsible to you for correctly carrying out the transaction unless we can prove that the payment was received by the payee's bank or building society within the appropriate time limit set out in Condition 10. If you ask us to, we will immediately try to trace the transaction and notify you of the outcome. If we made a mistake, we will refund the amount of the unpaid or incorrect transaction without undue delay. Where applicable, we will also restore your account to the state it would have been in if the incorrect transaction had not taken place. If we cause a delay carrying out an electronic payment, we may, where appropriate, ask the payee's bank or building society to ensure the amount is credited to the payee's account on the date it would have been credited if the transaction was carried out correctly.
- 12.5 If you are the payee in respect of an unpaid or incorrect payment, and the payer's bank or building society can prove we received the amount and your appropriate account details on time, we will immediately credit the amount to your account. Where applicable, we will also restore your account to the state it would have been if the payment was credited to your account correctly.
- 12.6 If you initiate an electronic payment as payee (for example, by debit card or direct debit), we are responsible for correctly sending your payment order within the agreed time limit, to the bank or building society which holds the account of the payer. If we fail to do this, we will immediately resend your payment order to the other bank or building society. If you ask us, we will immediately try to trace the transaction and notify you of the outcome. If we cause a delay to the transaction we will credit the amount to your account on the date it would have been credited if the transaction was carried out correctly. Where applicable, we will also restore your account to the state it would have been in if the payment was credited to your account correctly.
- 12.7 Subject to this Condition 12, if we are responsible for an unpaid, incorrect or late payment we will refund you any charges or interest you incur directly as a result of the unpaid, incorrect or late transaction.

13 PROTECTING YOUR ACCOUNT

- 13.1 An "account document" is a passbook, certificate, card or any similar item, which we designate to be an account document. We will give you an account document, which you must keep safe. It will remain our property and it must be returned to us whenever we ask, for example, to be brought up to date or for other purposes as we may reasonably require. If requested, you must produce the relevant account document before making a withdrawal.

- 13.2 “Security details” means the information, processes or security procedures we ask you to provide or use to give us instructions. These can be either over the telephone or via our Online Service. You must keep your security details secret and safe. In particular, you must:
- (a) not disclose your security details to anyone else (including any joint account holder or Society employee), write them down or otherwise record them in a form that would be recognisable by anyone else;
 - (b) take all reasonable care to ensure that no-one sees or hears your security details when you use them;
 - (c) not allow anyone else to use any of the computer or electronic equipment you use to access the Online Service without taking reasonable precautions to prevent anyone else from accessing your account using the Online Service;
 - (d) ensure you have fully logged off from the Online Service when you are not using it;
 - (e) follow any reasonable instructions we give you from time to time regarding the safe keeping and use of your security details or other matters relating to the security of your account.
- 13.3 You must notify us as soon as possible by calling our Savings Account Service Team (we will reimburse you for any call charges you incur) or by emailing us at savings.service@ncbs.co.uk if you discover or suspect that:
- (a) your account document has been lost or stolen;
 - (b) someone else knows your security details; or
 - (c) someone else (other than a joint account holder) is trying to access your account without your authority.
- 13.4 If you let us know under Condition 13.3, or if we reasonably think it is necessary to protect either your security details or your account, we may suspend the use of your security details as a way to access your account. Unless it is unlawful for us to do so or would compromise our reasonable security measures, we will let you know. We will do this either verbally where we are able to do so (and then in writing), or in writing in advance. We will tell you that we intend to suspend the use of your security details and our reason for doing so. If we are unable to contact you in advance we will tell you immediately afterwards. As soon as possible after the reason for the suspension to your security details has ended, we will either remove the suspension or give you new security details. You may also request we end the suspension of your security details by writing to us.
- 13.5 Provided you have not acted fraudulently or you have not, intentionally, or with serious carelessness failed to take all reasonable steps to keep your account document or security details safe, you will only be liable for the first £35.00 of any unauthorised withdrawals from your account(s). This applies to any withdrawals made after you were aware or should have been aware of the loss, theft or unauthorised use of your account document or security details, and before you notify us in accordance with Condition 13.3 above. You will not be liable for any unauthorised withdrawals where we have failed to provide you with appropriate means for notifying us under Condition 13.3.
- 13.6 We will issue you with a new account document after you have given us evidence regarding the loss and paid any fee which we may reasonably require.

14 INTEREST

- 14.1 We will tell you the interest rate that applies, and when it is paid or credited, when you open an account. This information is also available in the Product Features leaflet and Summary Box, on our website, or on request by post, telephone or email.
- 14.2 Subject to any special condition relating to interest rate changes which covers a particular account, we can change the interest rate paid on your savings as follows:
- 14.2.1 We may change the rate of interest to be paid on your savings at any time if the change is to your advantage or is needed for any one or more of the following reasons (which may relate to circumstances existing at the time or those which we reasonably expect to apply in the near future):
- (a) to respond, in a proportionate manner, to changes to the Bank of England Official Bank Rate, or changes generally in interest rates offered by our competitors in the savings market;
 - (b) to enable us to maintain, in a proportionate manner, the competitiveness of interest rates charged to borrowers from us, while having regard to the interests of our savers and our business as a whole;
 - (c) to reflect, in a proportionate manner, any increase or reduction in costs reasonably incurred by us in operating our savings products;

- (d) if it is necessary to maintain our financial strength in the interests of all our customers. Any change we make to interest rates will be proportionate to the circumstances giving rise to the change;
 - (e) to enable us to harmonise, in a reasonable manner, having regard to the interests of all our savers, the interest rates being paid to our savers following any acquisition of savings or investment accounts or any takeover of, or merger with, another savings provider; or
 - (f) to respond, in a proportionate manner, to changes in the law or the interpretation of the law, decisions or recommendations of an Ombudsman, regulator or similar person, or any code of practice which we intend to comply with.
- 14.2.2 We can also change the interest rate for any valid reason (other than a valid reason mentioned in Condition 14.2.1) where we think the change is appropriate. If we do this, we will tell you that we are varying the interest rate in accordance with this Condition 14.2.2 when we let you know about the change. At any time up to 30 days from the date of the notice where we tell you about the change, you may switch or close your account without notice, charge, loss of interest or bonus for doing so.
- 14.2.3 Unless the change is a material reduction in the interest rate, in which case Condition 14.2.4 below will apply, we will tell you about it by letter or other personal notice in accordance with Condition 24 as soon as reasonably possible, and, in any event, within 30 days of the change taking effect.
- 14.2.4 If the change is a material reduction to the interest rate on your account we will give you either:
- (g) at least 14 days advance notice of the change. At any time up to 30 days from the date of the notice you can close or switch your account without notice, charge or loss of interest for doing so; or
 - (h) notice of at least 14 days plus the account's normal notice period (or 30 days if longer than the notice period) before the interest rate change. If you would like to close or switch your account, the normal notice period will apply (if there is one), as will any charges that might ordinarily apply as well as or in addition to notice.

Notice will be provided in accordance with Condition 24.

- 14.2.5 If we notify you of a material reduction to the interest rate under Condition 14.2.4, we will send you a reminder of the change within the 14 days before the rate change. This reminder may be sent by any method of communication which you have agreed.
- 14.2.6 A material reduction to the interest rate, for the purposes of Condition 14.2.4, means the interest rate on the account is reduced and your account has a balance of £100 or more at the time the decision is made to change the interest rate.

15 CHARGES

- 15.1 We may charge for items relating to the operation of your account and deduct those charges from the amount in the account. The charges will reflect our costs and expenses. They may include our internal costs, third party expenses and full legal costs providing they are a reasonable amount and are reasonably incurred. We will tell you about our current charges in our tariff of charges.
- 15.2 We can change a charge that applies to electronic payments for any valid reason set out in this Condition 15 by giving you at least two months advance notice of the change by letter or other personal notice in accordance with Condition 24. If we notify you of a change under this Condition 15.2, you will be bound by the change, unless you choose to reject it. You can reject the change by writing to us before the change comes into effect. If you do notify us that you reject the change, we will treat this as notice by you to close the account. In this case, we will close the account and you will not have to give any period of notice or pay any charges which would otherwise apply.

In all other cases:

- 15.2.1 We can change our charges at any time if it is to your advantage. These may relate to circumstances existing at the time or those which we reasonably expect to apply in the near future (for example, the reduction or removal of a charge) or for any one or more of the following reasons:
- (a) to respond, in a proportionate manner, to changes in the costs and expenses which we reasonably incur in carrying out the relevant activities;
 - (b) to enable us to harmonise in a reasonable manner, having regard to the interests of all our savers, the charges paid by our savers following any acquisition of savings accounts or any takeover of, or merger with, another savings provider; or

- (c) to respond, in a proportionate manner, to changes in the law or the interpretation of the law, decisions or recommendations of an Ombudsman, regulator or similar person, or any code of practice which we intend to comply with.
- 15.2.2 We may also change our charges for any valid reason (other than a valid reason set out in Condition 15.2.1). If we do this, we will tell you we are changing the charges in accordance with this Condition 15.2.2 when we give you notice of the change. At any time up to 30 days from the date of the notice you can switch or close your account without notice, charge, loss of interest or bonus for doing so.
- 15.2.3 Where we vary or add to the charges under Condition 15.2.1, we will tell you about the change no less than 30 days before it takes effect by letter or other personal notice in accordance with Condition 24. However, a change which is to your advantage may be introduced with immediate effect and we will tell you about the change by letter or other personal notice in accordance with Condition 24 as soon as possible after the change has been made.
- 15.3 There may be other taxes or costs that are not paid through us or charged by us.

16 CHANGING THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS

- 16.1 We can change these Conditions and any special conditions which apply to your account (other than the rate of interest and charges) as follows:
 - 16.1.1 Where the changes relate to electronic payments, we can change these Conditions and any special conditions at any time for any valid reason set out in this Condition 16 by giving you at least two months advance notice of the change by letter or other personal notice in accordance with Condition 24. Unless you let us know in writing before the change comes into effect that you reject it, you will be bound by the change. If you do let us know that you reject the change, we will treat it as notice by you to close the account. In this case, the account will be closed but you will not have to give any notice period or pay additional charges that would otherwise apply.
 - 16.1.2 In all other cases:
 - 16.1.2.1 We can change these Conditions and any special conditions at any time if it is to your advantage (for example, improving or adding to our services) or is needed for any one or more of the following reasons (which may relate to circumstances existing at the time or those which we reasonably expect to apply in the near future):
 - (a) to make these Conditions and any special conditions fairer to you; or
 - (b) to respond, in a proportionate manner, to changes in the law, decisions of an Ombudsman, regulator or similar person, or any code of practice with which we intend to comply with.
 - 16.1.2.2 Where we make a change under Condition 16.1.2, we will tell you about the change no less than 30 days before it takes effect by letter or other personal notice in accordance with Condition 24. We will give you a period of 60 days after the date of notification to close or switch your account without having to give any notice or pay any additional charges that would otherwise apply. However, a change that is to your advantage may be introduced with immediate effect and we will tell you about the change by letter or other personal notice in accordance with Condition 24 within 30 days of the change.

17 CLOSING YOUR ACCOUNT

- 17.1 You can close your account at any time, without giving any reason, after giving any notice required by the special conditions applying to the account, except where the investment has been accepted for a fixed term which has not expired and withdrawals are prohibited by the special conditions of the account.
- 17.2 When you open your account we will obtain your consent to use your personal information to provide you with payment services (such as electronic payments out of your account). You can withdraw your consent at any time. If you do this, we will be unable to carry out any further electronic payments to or from your account. We will close your account subject to any fixed term, notice period, interest charges or other restrictions applying to the particular account.
- 17.3 We can close all or part of your account at any time without giving any reason, but:
 - (a) we will give you at least two months written notice;
 - (b) we will not use this right to repay a fixed term investment before the end of the fixed term; and
 - (c) we will not close your account, or threaten to do so, as a response to any complaint that you have made.

- 17.4 We can close your account immediately, regardless of whether your account has been accepted for a fixed term which has not yet expired if:
- (a) we reasonably believe that you have been involved in fraudulent or serious criminal behaviour which is connected to your account;
 - (b) you were not entitled to open the account;
 - (c) you have behaved in a threatening or abusive manner towards our staff and we reasonably believe that such behaviour justifies the closure of your account;
 - (d) you do not comply with any of your obligations under these Conditions (where we reasonably regard such failure to comply as serious), and do not put this right within a reasonable time of us asking you to do so; or
 - (e) the contract between us is void or otherwise unenforceable.
- 17.5 If we close the account in accordance with this Condition 17, we will pay interest at the agreed rate up to but not including the date of the repayment.
- 17.6 If we close the account in full and repay the money to you in accordance with this Condition 17, you will have no further right or interest in the account.

18 TRANSFER

- 18.1 You can transfer your savings to another person, subject to the special conditions applying to your account, our prior approval (which will not be unreasonably withheld), and the payment of any applicable charge.

19 THIRD PARTY INTERESTS

- 19.1 We do not have to recognise the interest or claim of any person other than the account holder(s) in respect of money held in any account. We also won't be responsible in any way for failing to recognise such interest or claim, except as required by law.

20 SET-OFF

- 20.1 We may use the money in your account towards payment of any money that you owe us (for example, under a mortgage, loan, guarantee or otherwise) which is due for payment but has not been paid. This is known as our right of set-off.
- 20.2 We will not use our right of set-off in relation to money in your account if we have reasonable grounds to think that any of the following apply:
- (a) The money is needed to meet your essential living expenses or payments due in respect of:
 - mortgage or rental payments on your home;
 - your essential goods or services (such as paying for your cooker or refrigerator, or your means to travel to work);
 - utilities (water, gas or electricity); or
 - court orders or any other legal obligation (for example, council tax, child support maintenance or court fees).
 - (b) You are holding the money on behalf of someone else.
 - (c) You have received the money from a government department, local authority or NHS direct payment organisation for a specific purpose, or you are under a legal obligation to keep the money and use it in a particular way.
- 20.3 If we propose to use our right of set-off in relation to your account we will contact you at least 14 days beforehand to tell you this.
- 20.4 If we use our right of set-off in relation to your account we will contact you promptly to tell you that we have done so.
- 20.5 Once we have used our right of set-off in relation to money in your account that money will stop being yours and you will not earn any interest or bonus on it.

21 UNCLAIMED BALANCES

- 21.1 If you cannot be traced after reasonable enquiry, and either:
- 21.1.1 for a period of three years you have not made a payment to or withdrawal from your account and the amount in that account is less than £100, or
- 21.1.2 for a period of five years you have not made a payment to or withdrawal from your account, we can close the account and retain the balance. If you contact us at a later date requesting that the account is re-opened we will not unreasonably refuse such a request (providing you supply us with satisfactory proof of identity). We may open a new account for you and credit that account with the amount of money in the closed account and credit interest accordingly or repay the money to you, with interest.

22 MARKETING OF PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

- 22.1 The application form for your account seeks your consent for us to occasionally send you details of products and services, including those of our selected partner companies which may be of interest to you. If you provide your consent at the time of opening but subsequently decide to withdraw it, you can let us know by writing to our Principal Office.

23 TELEPHONE CALLS AND ACCOUNT OPERATION

- 23.1 We may record any telephone calls we have with you in the interest of staff training, monitoring customer service or for security purposes.
- 23.2 For your convenience, we may accept withdrawal instructions and respond to account enquiries over the telephone, as long as we're satisfied with your identity based on items of personal information we ask you. In the event that we are not satisfied with your identity over the phone, we may decline to accept verbal instructions and require that instructions are dealt with in writing. Details relating to the specific arrangements for the telephone operation of your account must remain confidential between you and us.

24 SERVICE OF NOTICES

- 24.1 Any demand or notice by us shall be sufficiently served on you if it's in writing, addressed to you and sent:
- (a) by prepaid post to your address last known to us;
 - (b) by email to any email address you have given us for this purpose; or
 - (c) by secure message via the Online Service.
- 24.2 Where we send any such demand or notice it will be considered as received by you as follows:
- (a) 72 hours after posting (regardless of class of post); or
 - (b) the day the email or secure message is sent.
- 24.3 We do not have to give you personal notice in circumstances when we would normally do so, whether as a result of these Conditions or otherwise, if we have a good reason to believe that you will not receive the notice.

25 THE SOCIETY'S RULES

- 25.1 Where the Conditions apply to your account you will (except where the account is a deposit account) be a member of the Society and bound by our Rules but the Conditions or any relevant special conditions will apply where they are inconsistent with the Rules.
- 25.2 If you have a deposit account, you are not a member of the Society by virtue of that account. You are, however, bound by our Rules. This means they apply to deposit account holders, except to the extent that they are inconsistent with these Conditions.

26 SEVERANCE

- 26.1 Each of the provisions and sub-provisions of these Conditions is separate and distinct from the others and if at any time any one or more of such provisions or sub-provisions becomes illegal, invalid or unenforceable, this will not impair or affect the legality, validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions.

27 UNPAID TAXES

27.1 In certain cases, HMRC can require us to disclose information about you and take money from your account to be used towards payment of taxes due but unpaid. We will take this action if we are legally obliged to do so.

28 COMMUNICATIONS

28.1 Our communications with you will be in English.

28.2 We may communicate with you by letter, phone, email, text or any other form of communication which you have agreed, subject to Condition 24 and any special condition of a particular account which specifies the method of communication to be used (for example, secure message on the Online Service). Where we can, we will let you choose how you want us to contact you.

28.3 If you experience a change in your personal circumstances perhaps due to ill health, the loss of a close relative or simply facing personal difficulties, you will be treated appropriately, sensitively and flexibly. With your agreement, we will provide a dedicated point of contact. We can offer you alternative methods of communication such as large print, braille or audio.

29 LAW AND JURISDICTION

29.1 These Conditions, any special conditions applying to your particular account at any time, and the relationship between you and us shall be governed by English law and you agree to submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts.

30 MATTERS BEYOND OUR CONTROL

30.1 We will not be liable to you for losses or costs caused by abnormal and unforeseeable circumstances beyond our control, the consequences of which would have been unavoidable despite all efforts to the contrary.

31 COMPLAINTS

31.1 Although we are committed to providing you with a first class service we recognise that there may be an occasion when you feel that we may not have done this and you wish to make a complaint. If you wish to make a complaint or would like more information about our complaints procedure, please let us know by telephone, post, email or via secure message.

31.2 We will always try to resolve any complaint quickly and at the earliest possible stage. However, if you are not satisfied with our response, or we have not been able to resolve your complaint, you may be able to refer it to the Financial Ombudsman Service. The Financial Ombudsman Service provides a free, independent, complaint resolution service. Details about their service and how to refer a complaint to them can be found on their website at financial-ombudsman.org.uk or by phoning them on 08000 234567 or 03001 239123.

31.3 If you have opened your account online, you also have the option to refer your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service using the Online Dispute Resolution platform. The platform has been established by the European Commission to provide an online tool for consumers to resolve disputes about goods and services purchased online. The platform can be found at ec.europa.eu/consumers/odr/

31.4 If you are not eligible to refer your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service we do not subscribe to any alternative dispute resolution services.

31.5 If your complaint relates to an alleged breach of the Payment Services Regulations 2017 you may refer the matter to the Financial Conduct Authority for investigation. Information about how to contact them can be found on their website fca.org.uk
